

Training certification

▶▶ Background information: Certification is valid for a one-day event (non-renewable) or for a two-year period, after which a application for renewal must be made. You will automatically receive an email reminder approximately two months before the two-year certification period expires.

Organizations that provide training and independent trainers who wish to request certification for a training activity must proceed as follows:

1. Read and understand the Training Certification Guide [in French only].
2. Comply with the certification criteria and procedures;
3. Complete the certification application form (by following this procedure);
4. Comply with the commitments;
5. Pay the applicable fees.

A maximum of 30 days is required to analyse the file.

Application for training recognition

Here are the 5 steps to follow :

1. Read the Training Recognition Guide (in French only) to ensure that your training activity complies with the categories recognized by the CNAO. (<https://chad.ca/wp-content/uploads/2022/03/guide-reconnaissance-fro.pdf>)
2. Comply with the accreditation criteria and procedures, in particular with respect to length, content and format, as well as how the structure facilitates learning and learner assessment. Trainer recognition criteria must also be respected, including professional and group facilitation experience. See the Application Guide (URL link coming soon).
3. Complete the application form and attach additional documents as required.
4. Comply with the section on the training organization's commitments, particularly with respect to recording attendance, publicizing training activities, evaluating learners and issuing certificates of attendance.
5. Pay the applicable fees (file analysis, number of POUs, trainers' fees).

- Questionnaire

Complete every field in the questionnaire.

- Pay close attention to how you answer, and which documents you need to attach. Be as detailed as possible so that we may carry out an in-depth analysis of your application. Our goal is to ensure that the training we offer is interesting and relevant to the professional practice of our certified members. If any information we require for our analysis is missing, you will receive an email indicating the nature of this information or the additional documents you will need to send us.
- Please note that additional time may be necessary to process your application if any information is missing.

When the questionnaire is completed in full, click on “Submit.”

Statement of Accuracy

Information

As the person responsible for this application for recognition, I undertake to:

- comply with the Regulation respecting the compulsory professional development of the Chambre de l'assurance de dommages;
- ensure that the trainer(s) is (are) qualified to provide the training;
- ensure that no information contrary to the laws and regulations governing damage insurance is communicated during the training;
- ensure that the training remains consistent with the summary in the trainer's guide (course outline) submitted with the application for recognition;
- not use training to promote a product;
- not engage in false or misleading advertising or advertising that is likely to mislead participants;
- show the number of PDUs, category or categories and the recognition number when advertising recognized training, and display the PDU logo;
- at the end of in-classroom training sessions, have participants who have attended the entire session sign an attendance sheet;
- after asynchronous training, have participants complete a summative evaluation; the passing grade must be 60% or above;
- certify attendance on EduChAD within 30 days of the session and upload the attendance sheet or completion report;
- provide, within 30 days of the activity, supporting documentation that attests to the participants having successfully completed or attended the training;
- include features to control the length of the asynchronous training and ensure that learners participate in active learning activities.

By checking this box, you agree to the commitment.
